Choking Catarrh.
Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pain and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with Catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies fail, of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

Each packet contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IMPROVED INHALER, with treatise and directions, and is sold by all druggists for $1.00.

Irish Presbyterians Opposed to Home Rule.

THE WAR FEELING IN ATHENS.

Miss Folsom Detained in France—Attempt to Smoke Out the Czar—The Vatican and Prussia—Notes From Berlin.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Presbyterian church of Ireland has prepared an address to the Presbyterians of America on the subject of home rule, to appear in print for the first time this morning, in a copyrighted cable to the Tribune. It is moderate in tone, but is marked throughout by a strong conviction that home rule will only lead to disaster in Ireland. Editorially the Tribune says: "Briefly, the address asserts that home rule in Ireland would destroy all safeguards for the minority, would aggravate evils now existing in Ireland, and revive religious animosity. The imperial parliament, the assembly thinks, is fully capable of ruling Ireland justly."

Prominent Presbyterian clergymen here express a variety of opinions on the address. Dr. Howard Crosby believes in home rule thoroughly, and thinks the Irish church takes a selfish and not a broad view of Gladstone's measure. He thinks the Irish parliament will have high character enough to refuse to enter upon any religious oppression. The church here, he says, will do nothing at all in the matter.

Dr. John Hall said: "The Presbyterian clergy of Ulster are true friends of the union and of England, and what they say ought to have weight with those who look carefully at the question of Gladstone's bill. I see a good many defects in it, and some things which would hurt the best interests of Ireland. I think the church here will let the Irish question alone and not interest itself on the other side."

Dr. John Paxton said: "I am decidedly a Gladstone and Parnell man, on general principles. I believe in home rule for Ireland, and think that the minority in Ulster ought to look out for itself. Home rule is a simple matter of justice to Ireland, but America ought to take care of herself and let England and Ireland work out their own problems. The church is a church will do nothing of consequence."

GLADSTONE AND CHAMBERLAIN.

LONDON, May 9.—The crisis in the liberal party has now reached its most acute stage. Everything turns on the probability of reconciliation between Gladstone and Chamberlain. Gladstone's latest, if not last word must be sought in his Monday manifesto. Chamberlain's reply appeared yesterday. He is not satisfied with Gladstone's assurances. Gladstone proposes to treat the maintenance of Irish representation in Westminster as an open question. Chamberlain declines to do this. He declares that this is the key of the position. He assents heartily to the principle of autonomy for Ireland, but insists that Gladstone's method of giving effect to this principle involves separation, whereas federation is the only principle he can approve. In short, if the government will embody in the bill, before its second reading, this principle of Irish representation in the imperial parliament, they can have Chamberlain's support. If not, he waives other points included in his previous ultimatum, and to this he adheres.

ANYTHING TO DEFEAT GLADSTONE.

NEW YORK, May 9.—London cable to the Mail and Express says: The queen's coming to the front lately in social and industrial affairs and behaving like a friend of the people, is attributed by Gladstonites to designs of the conservatives, who are exerting themselves to rally all their forces of society and rank against Gladstone. As an instance of this and of the effect which the tories have been laboring to produce, Gladstone was warned that his presence at the opening of the colonial exhibition by her majesty on last Tuesday would create a row, sympathizers with the opposition being present in full force. It was for this reason that the premier abstained from going to the ceremony, notwithstanding the fact that under ordinary circumstances his presence would be most appreciated.

EGAN TO PARNELL.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 9.—Patrick Egan, president of the National League of America, has this evening forwarded the following cable to Mr. Parnell: To Charles S. Parnell, London:—The statements of the Standard, Globe, Daily Telegraph and St. James Gazette charging our countrymen with instigation of the socialist riots in Chicago, are an infamous libel. There was not a single Irishman amongst the anarchists while most of those who fell defending public order were of our nationality. This latest evidence of malice on the part of the English press has greatly helped our cause among the American people.

PATRICK EGAN.

THE EASTERN TROUBLE.

THE WAR SENTIMENT UNABATED.

ATHENS, May 9.—A demonstration meeting was held to-day in Constitution square. Warlike speeches were made and a resolution was carried amid wild excitement, favoring war with Turkey. A resolution advising an immediate increase in the army was also adopted. After the meeting a crowd marched to the house of Premier Delyannis, and in response to repeated calls the premier made a brief address, in which he said that the government would never sign an agreement involving the disbanding of the forces. This declaration was cheered to the echo. The multitude then proceeded to the residence of ex-Prime Minister Tricoupis, and demanded a speech, but M. Tricoupis refused to appear. This action on the part of the ex-premier caused an uproar, and shouts of "Traitor" arose from the crowd. The people finally dispersed in an orderly manner.

The Russian minister to Greece has concluded his visit to the czar and has arrived at Sebastopol, en route to Athens. He has telegraphed to the members of the embassy to prepare for their departure from Greece.

HURRYING TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

LONDON, May 9.—Turkey and Greece are hurrying troops to the front. Several European papers are of the opinion that Russia will secretly support Greece.

TO CONFER WITH THE CZAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 9.—The minister of war has gone to Livadia, to confer with the czar.

RUSSIA.

ATTEMPT TO SMOKE OUT THE CZAR.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A Vienna special says: Having failed in their attempts to blow up or poison the czar, the nihilists have tried to smoke him out. The other evening, as the imperial family at Livadia were about to retire for the night, the sky suddenly reddened, and as the darkness deepened the strange light grew more and more intense, and a number of terrified officials rushed into Livadia barracks with the report that the nihilists had fired the neighboring forests. Fanned by a strong sea breeze, the flames rapidly spread, despite the feeble efforts of the soldiers to check their progress, till the sky for miles around was in a glow. The fire burned for several days, but fortunately without reaching the boundaries of the imperial park. Great anxiety prevails at Livadia.

FRANCE.

MISS FOLSOM ILL IN PARIS.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A cablegram from Paris says: Miss Folsom, fiancee of President Cleveland, will not start for home as soon as expected, and will hardly be seen in New York before the early part of July. It was the intention of the party to sail from Liverpool on the 13th, by the Inman steamer City of Chicago, but unfortunately Mrs. Folsom, who has never entirely recovered from an attack of Roman fever which compelled her to take to her bed in Genoa, has fallen ill again and her departure will have to be postponed for awhile. Meantime the preparation of Miss Folsom's wedding outfit is going on with all possible expedition. The fact of the engagement is no longer denied by the family among their intimate friends, and indeed the bridal dress is already made.

CANADA.

BIG FIRE AT HULL.

HULL, Quebec, May 9.—Fire broke out at an early hour this morning in Alderman Laundry's bakery, and, spreading rapidly, soon destroyed all the houses on Lake and Duke streets, and on Main street as far as the corner of Main and Slide streets, where it was checked. The area covered by the fire is about ten acres, and 150 families were burned out. The new postoffice, a handsome structure, costing about $150,000 was destroyed. Other losses are estimated at $140,000 alone, on which there is an insurance of $35,000.

ENGLAND.

A WELCOME FOR HOLMES.

LONDON, May 9.—The Daily News says: "Perhaps no American author, though all are welcome will be so welcomed as Holmes, the patriarch of literature. Americans are more hospitable than we, but even tardy hospitable folks in England will welcome him as Americans welcome English men."

AUSTRIA.

OPPOSITION TO THE SOCIALIST LAW.

VIENNA, May 9.—Three thousand workmen held a meeting to-day and adopted a resolution demanding of the liberal deputies that they oppose the socialist law.

ITALY.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC.

LONDON, May 9.—Advices from Brindisi report fifteen new cases of cholera and five deaths from the disease, and from Venice nine new cases and three deaths.

SPAIN.

NEW PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE.

MADRID, May 9.—Gen. Concha has been appointed president of the senate.

CABLE LETTER FROM BERLIN.

The Vatican and the Chancellor—The Spirit Tax, Etc.

BERLIN, May 8.—It is stated that the Vatican will postpone the appointment of a papal nuncio at Berlin until the ecclesiastical bill becomes a law. Communications that have passed between the Prussian government and the pope on the subject show that there is still some variance between them, but it is expected that an arrangement will be effected at an early day. The Catholic press expresses satisfaction at the final ending of the kulturkampf, and Prince Bismarck virtually admits that fighting spiritual influences has been a failure. National liberals, on the other hand, do not believe that durable peace can be maintained after this partial triumph of the church. They say that the center party will reopen the campaign and demand that religious orders be allowed to re-establish themselves in Prussia, and will next attack the secular system of public schools and insist upon the substitution of a sectarian system. Forecasts of the organs of all parties are that the center party will adopt this course on the school question.

The spirit bill now before the bundesrath proposes a tax of 80 pfennigs per litre, to be collected from retail merchants. If this bill is rejected an alternative measure will be introduced, subjecting spirits to tax previous to their leaving the distillery. The latter plan, it is calculated, will yield a yearly income to the government of 20,000,000 marks ($5,000,000).

Emperor William, acting upon the advice of his doctors, will abstain from his customary inspection of the guards at the spring review.

Prince Frederick Leopold, nephew of the Emperor William, is about to visit the Duke of Connaught. The emperor has presented to the young prince the domain of Flatow, which, added to the fortune left him by his father, will make him rank with the richest princes in Europe. In court circles here it is said that the visit of the prince to England will be made in connection with the proposed match between the prince and the eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales.

The king of Wurtemberg has gone to Nice. He is suffering with spinal disease, and is said to be dying.

The Munich Gazette announces the failure of the negotiations with the landtag for settlement of the Bavarian king's debts, and says that the refusal of the landtag to defray the royal indebtedness has resulted in the resumption of judicial action against the civil list.

Proposals to limit the use of the German language will be submitted by the Czech deputies at the coming session of the Austrian reichsrath, and it is expected that violent scenes, if not even collisions between Czech and German deputies, will follow their introduction. The Czechs agree that the German language shall be continued to be used in public services, but they hold that it should be taught only in the upper and not in the lower schools.

SWITZERLAND.

SALVATION ARMY MEETING MOBBED.

ZURICH, May 9.—A mob made an attack on a Salvation army meeting near this city to-day, and demolished the building in which the meeting was being held. Several persons were injured.

CALIFORNIA.

YACHT RACE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The second trial between the yachts Aggie and Lurline, over a twenty-four and a half mile course and return, for a purse of $1000, took place to-day. The yachts started a few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning. At 8 o'clock to-night, the time allowed for the yachts to have returned to the starting point, the Lurline was two miles outside the heads, with the Aggie a short distance behind her. A third trial will be had next Sunday.

BOYCOTTERS SUED.

SANTA CRUZ, May 9.—A. A. Taylor, proprietor of the Daily Surf and Weekly Courier, of this city, has brought suit for damages for $10,000, against Elihu Anthony, Duncan McPherson and other leaders of the movement to boycott the above named newspapers.

FROM CHINA AND JAPAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The steamer City of Peking arrived to-day, with Hong Kong dates to April 18 and Yokohama to the 23d.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Recent investigation shows the existing navy of Great Britain cost $210,000,000, and that its present value does not exceed $60,000,000.

The mayor of Chicago has telegraphed to Gladstone his approval of the home rule bill. Chicago would like a little home rule herself.

President Cleveland is reported to have cabled Miss Folsom suggesting that she keep her own counsel about their engagement until she gets home.

The last survivor of Waterloo in Chelsea hospital is John Mackaye, of the Forty-second Highlanders. He is 103 years old, fat and fond of his pipe and glass, and occasionally sings a song.

Says the democratic Macon Telegraph as it looks grimly at the White house, "What this country wants is an annual Arbor day, upon which it will be lawful to plant statesmen who have failed."

A notable figure disappears from the British house of commons in the retirement of Sir Thomas May. He has been in parliamentary service fifty-four years, the last thirty as clerk of the house.

John Swinton, the socialist, wants to turn the buildings of Yale college into factories. Speaking of utilities, what a splendid bellows John Swinton would make.

An extraordinary fact in connection with the Russian conscripts drafted into the ranks in 1885 is shown by some statistics just published. The total number of conscripts accepted was 217,587, of whom no fewer than 40,830 were Jews.

The new democratic postmaster at Baltimore is a millionaire who drives a four-in-hand, and is related to the descendants of Jerome Bonaparte. He gets his Jeffersonian simplicity by inheritance, and it is not of that rugged character which the masses have been looking for.

Commenting on the Montgomery celebration, the Vicksburg Commercial Herald, the leading democratic morning paper of the state, says: "Mr. Jefferson Davis is not of the new South, he is of the old South. He said things at Montgomery that would have been better unsaid, and did not say things which he, of all men, ought to have said."

An officeseeker who has had a little recent experience at Washington says: "I tried to get a fourth class postmastership for one of my constituents, but was balked at every turn. Imagine my surprise when I discovered the president's sister was in my way, recommending the retention of the republican incumbent. I found her letter on file before Vilas had time to remove it."

The more prominent and widely known Southern journals are at considerable pains to explain that the ovation given Jeff Davis does not really mean anything. It is simply a bed of roses for an old man about to sleep his last sleep, and who, as one of the mottoes expressed it, "was manacled for us." The loyal people of the country are told that they may dismiss all fears and go about their business without feeling the thorn of apprehension.

A NOTE FROM W. LAIR HILL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4, 1886.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Having just received your daily of the 29th ult, containing a report of the proceedings of the republican state convention, and observing my name was presented to the convention as a candidate for the office of justice of the supreme court, I feel warranted in obtruding myself upon your readers with a word in relation thereto. I was not a candidate in any sense further than that, after receiving many letters asking my consent to the use of my name in that connection, I wrote, not without great reluctance, that if nominated and elected I should not refuse to serve; but that I should not under any circumstances permit a struggle to be made for my nomination. And I am now heartily glad that the convention named Judge Waldo. He has learning, ability, experience and integrity. He has made an excellent judge, and will, if re-elected as I sincerely hope he may be, continue to bring these high qualities to the discharge of his duties, with the improvement which six years' past service assures.

In writing this I am not merely coining the phrases of a defeated candidate, for the sake of personal and party standing; for I was not a candidate, and do not expect to be at any future time. Caring little for official position and quite as little for party standing, I am, in this matter, simply expressing my desire to see the state well served in its highest judicial tribunal—as it ought to be in all others. Yours very truly,

W. L. H.

Too Much Disputation.

Philadelphia Times.

The one way to prosperity that can always be relied upon by individuals or communities, is to work for it. To leave off working to engage in disputation never yet brought lasting success. Just now we are having so much talk about capital and labor that there is no chance for either of them to fulfill its proper functions, and the stream of legitimate trade that ought to be flowing through the country now, diffusing prosperity and contentment among all classes, is choked and obstructed by the useless driftwood of foolish and idle disputation.

Powderly Issues a Call to the Knights of Labor.

THE ORDER TO BE REMODLED.

A Shocking Train Accident—The Coming Week in Congress—The British Minister's Views on the Fisheries Dispute—Etc.

ST. LOUIS, May 9.—A Baltimore special says: General Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, acting under authority vested in him by the general executive board, has issued a call to the various assemblies of the order for a special session of the general assembly, to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday, May 25. The causes leading to the calling of the session are given as follows: First, the rapidly increasing membership of the order requires changes in the laws which the general executive board have no authority to make; second, the laws in relation to the government of boycotting are wholly inadequate to compel obedience on the part of assemblies that believe in boycotting for every offense, whether great or small; third, the laws in relation to strikes do not give the general executive board power to interfere in such matters until after a strike has been inaugurated. The order has become involved in difficulties with trade societies, and an effort is being made to create a rupture between these societies and the Knights of Labor.

TEXT OF THE CIRCULAR.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The Daily News will to-morrow morning publish the full text of the secret circular from Grand Master Powderly to the different assemblies of the Knights of Labor, to be read during the present week. The circular contains a call for a general meeting of assemblies to take place at Cleveland Ohio, May 25, at which matters relating to the interests of the order will be canvassed and action taken upon them. Also in the circular, Powderly takes occasion to rebuke the tendency to drunkenness in some quarters, and adjures members to forswear the intemperate use of intoxicants. He reads them a temperance lecture, pointing to the fact that drunkenness is a great incentive to riotous methods in attempting to gain a given point. He deprecates all talk of use of violence, and illustrates the many abuses to which the boycott is put. "I hate the word 'boycott,'" he says, and forbids its use except as a last resort, and then only upon consent of the general assembly. Powderly then announces that hereafter he will receive no committees and answer no letters addressed to him pending the holding of the meeting at Cleveland. His mail, he says, contains 400 letters daily, and he has 2000 on hand that are not and never will be read. He must have time, he says, to perfect his plans for the good of the order.

CHICAGO STRIKERS WEAKENING.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Nearly all the freight handlers employed or on a strike here were present at a meeting of the freight workers' union to-night. The meeting had no sooner been called to order than a communication received from the switchmen's union was read, wherein that organization absolutely refused to uphold the freight workers in the present strike, or even to countenance it. The reading of this communication was followed by a warm debate, which brought into view a general sentiment that the popular prejudice against the strikers, intensified by the tragedy of Tuesday night, made the prospect of success exceedingly doubtful. Many of those present openly declared it their wish to abandon the principle for which they went out, and to return to work. This feeling resulted in the appointment of a committee, which is instructed to call at the offices of all the roads to-morrow morning and negotiate for the most favorable settlement possible. It is stated that failing to secure any better concession on the part of the roads, the committee will authorize the discontinuance of the strike, on one consideration—that all the men be allowed to return. A freight-worker present at the meeting said he believed the strike would be drawn to-morrow morning.

ANARCHISTS NOT PERMITTED TO MEET.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The anarchists made an attempt to hold meetings to-day in several of their customary assembling places, but were in each case dispersed by the police. At one place 200 men were found by a detail of police. They said they were the "lead carriers union," and wanted to argue the point with a police lieutenant. The police were in no mood for argument, and after searching every man present ordered them to return to their homes.

A TALK WITH HERR MOST.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A World reporter claims to have met Herr Most, the anarchist, in a wine saloon. Referring to Chicago's affairs he said: "We are not behind our friends in Chicago. We have our bombs and revolvers as well as they, and you will see them fly and go off in the streets of New York before long perhaps, but anyhow at any time when the police give us provocation. The battle at the Chicago Haymarket took place too soon. It has cost us some of our best generals, but it cannot kill us. Its effects on the anarchists is elevating. They have not only shown to the police what they can do, but they have also proved to their own satisfaction that their strength is superior to that of the police."

THE BOYCOTTERS DARED.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Mr. Irving, who has charge of the estate of the Astors, says that certain trades union people in the Astors' employ in this city recently made claims for reduced hours and increased pay, threatening a boycott if not favorably dealt with. To this the Astors answered: "No. Go ahead with the boycott."

REBUKED BY THEIR GRAND LODGE.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Piano makers who are demanding ten hours' pay for eight hours' work assembled to-day to listen to resolutions by their grand lodge, declaring their strike to be a failure, and ordering the men back to the shops to-morrow morning.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

FORT WAYNE, May 9.—When train No. 8, known as the "day express," which left Chicago at 3:15, via the Fort Wayne road, this afternoon, was passing the little station of Inwood, six miles east of Plymouth, at just 6 o'clock this evening, a horrible accident occurred, and four lives will be lost thereby. John Wymer, a young farmer, living a mile and a half east of Inwood, started from his home in the morning, accompanied by his wife and two pretty little daughters, aged 3 and 4 years, and drove on to visit some friends. After spending most of the day they started back, and reached Inwood station at 6 o'clock, just the time the day express is due. As his wagon was passing over the track it was struck by the engine. Both horses were killed instantly, as was also John Wymer and the oldest of the two girls. His wife and other child escaped instant death only to suffer the agonies of lingering death. They were mangled so as to make them almost unrecognizable, and presented a sickening appearance. The oldest child's head was completely severed from the body, and lay ten or fifteen feet from the trunk, while Wymer was simply a shapeless mass of human flesh. Mrs. Wymer and youngest child were not mangled so badly as the other two, but they were injured beyond hope of recovery. An eye-witness said to an associated press reporter: "It is an awful accident, but no one is to blame except Wymer himself."

THE COMING WEEK IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The senate has unanimously consented to devote to-morrow and Tuesday to discussion of the inter-state commerce bill, and to vote upon the measure before adjournment on Tuesday. It is the understanding that the general pension bill shall next be taken up, and that the bankruptcy bill, the open session resolutions, the Chinese restriction bill and the Pacific railroad debt extinction bill shall follow in their order. It is impossible, however, that more than one or two of these measures will be disposed of during the coming week.

The appropriation committee has the agriculture, pension and district of Columbia appropriation bills under consideration, and its sub-committees have made much progress, so that one or more of them may be brought in speedily, if desired, but none are likely to be reported or brought up.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

NEW YORK, May 8.—On his re-election as president of the Civil Service Reform association, George Wm. Curtis talked about President Cleveland's merits, difficulties and achievements as a civil service reformer. He praised the president for his efforts, but declared that his party did not find material for a cabinet devoted to civil service reform. He thought that the president's course under the circumstances must be steered between the interests of his party on one hand and the interests of reform on the other, and the inevitable end of such a course is disaster. He hoped the association would continue to support the president.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The World's Washington correspondent says: John Sherman and his friends are preparing plans to boom Sherman and Levi P. Morton for 1888.

THE BRITISH MINISTER'S VIEWS.

The American Congress to Blame for the Fisheries Trouble.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Post to-morrow will publish an interview with Hon. Sackville West, British minister, in regard to the seizure of the United States fishing vessel Adams by Canadian authorities, in which he says: "I have had no official correspondence upon the fisheries question this year. You see that the matter is in the hands of the Dominion authorities at its present stage. They correspond directly with the colonial office in London, and it is not until some action is taken by the imperial government that I should be called upon to act in the matter with the United States. I don't apprehend that this question is going to cause any serious differences between the two countries. Of course the seizure of the Adams at Digby will increase the unpleasantness which is felt on both sides. Everything might have been avoided had congress taken the advice of the administration and appointed a commission to inquire into the whole dispute, but it has chosen not to do so, led by Senator Frye, who really does not seem to care what he says. Congress has denounced the treaty of 1871, and it has substituted nothing, leaving us to fall upon the miserable old treaty of 1818. Instead of progress, there has been retrogression in this matter, and we are now acting under a treaty made over sixty years ago. The question now is as to the interpretation of that treaty. The Canadians may interpret one way, the Americans another, while the imperial government may understand it in a way of its own. Everything appears now to depend upon the way in which the British government may interpret this treaty. This seizure of the Adams will bring up the question, and possibly decide the interpretation. It will come before a mixed court, part British citizens and part Americans. I don't believe any retaliatory action will be taken by either country. That system is too old and has gone out of use, and it has been found always to operate against retaliation."

GLADSTONE'S MANIFESTO.

Summary of his Midlothian Speech—Full of Confidence and Defiance—His Opponents Roughly Handled.

Mr. Gladstone, in his address to his Midlothian constituents May 2, said: "You must not be discouraged if in the upper ranks of society at home you hear a variety of discordant notes, discordant alike from our policy and from one another. Gentlemen, you have before you a cabinet determined in its purpose and with an intelligent plan of its own. I see very little else in the political arena either determined or intelligible. I will now proceed to speak of the state of things within and without parliament and the nature and import of the next great step to be taken for the progress of my measure.

I speak now of the home rule bill and leave the land purchase bill to stand on the declaration already made, adding only an expression of regret that while the sands are running from the hourglass the Irish landlords have given no indication of a desire to accept the proposal framed in a spirit of the most allowable regard for their apprehensions and interests.

I do not underestimate the grave importance of differences of opinion among liberals. Some are inclined to rule the whole question against us by authority. They say: Surely such a number of able, consistent and even extreme liberals would not have seceded except in obedience to the imperative dictates of truth and reason. I will say nothing of the motives which determined us to confront the risk of such a parting. I earnestly recommend a reference to the motives which history supplies. It is not the first time in the history of liberalism that a section of the liberals under chiefs of distinction and ability have dissented from the general view of the party to the delight, and doubtless the advantage of the tories. There was an illustrious secession previous to the war with Bonaparte. There was a similar secession when it was proposed to disestablish the Irish church. But eventually in both cases it was proved that in principle the party was right and the secession wrong. Comparing these with it is impossible not to be struck with a vital difference. In each previous secession the dissentients agreed upon an active, substantial policy. It is not so now. Some are in favor of unlimited coercion, others of moderate doses, while a few oppose coercion altogether. On the other side some oppose local government. Some would give it to the counties; some to the precincts. Some again would give an administrative center with legislative prerogatives, while some propose a legislative center without executive power. Some indeed go beyond the proposition of the government and actually recommend federation. Some alter the proposals which they would recommend with every new speech. All this is a proof, not of the weakness of the men, but of the

HELPLESSNESS OF THEIR CAUSE.

We have at least the advantage of one voice. The secession, however estimable it may be otherwise, is a perfect Babel on the Irish policy. It is admitted on all hands that social order is the first of all political aims. To secure this in Ireland the liberals, who are in secession, offer 100 conflicting remedies, or else no remedies at all. These remarks are as applicable to the tories as they are to the liberals. The opponents to the government's measure make a remarkable omission in their speeches. In each, whether suggestive or critical, they fail to express confidence in the permanent success of their opposition. To live from hand to mouth seems to be the height of their ambition, while they suspect what we all know, that the strife can only end in the concession of home rule. If this is so, the real question is not the triumph of Irish autonomy, but the length and character of the struggle. Therefore, we want to shorten, they to prolong the struggle. "We say 'give freely,' they, by acts, if not words, say 'let us only give what we can no longer withhold.' We say, 'Give now, while the position of the kingdom in the affairs of the world is free and strong;' they prefer to wait for a period of national difficulty, that we may yield to the Irish demand in terror, as we did in the war of 1778, as we did to the demands of the volunteers in 1782, as we did to Bonaparte in 1793, and as we did in the civil war in 1829. We say, 'act now, now when moderation of thought and language rules in Irish counsels, when by the willing concurrence of all sides every arrangement for the reservation of imperial prerogatives can be made complete and absolute; they would postpone till an hour comes when the demands may be larger and the means of resistance less. We say, 'deal as with a matter between brothers—a matter of justice and reason.' Now,

A NEW TERROR

Is brought upon the stage, the terror of home rule for Scotland, some add for Wales. The suggestion does not alarm me; only gives us a little time to look at the question in its order of merit. I am not sorry that Scotland and Wales have been named, because all serious naming of them serves to help our movement in behalf of Ireland. I can draw no vital distinction of right between the case of Ireland and the other cases, but there are many distinctions of circumstances.

"For many years I have hoped it might be found practicable to apply the decentralizing processes, even, perhaps, to portions of different conditions. Each case, which will naturally require difference of treatment, will remain subject to the primary imperial delegations. I believe that the standard and measure of good government in Scotland and Wales will be even determined by public opinion in Scotland and Wales. This I say without a painful disparaging of the circumstances of the controversy with which we are threatened in the case of Ireland, whose woeful history for centuries emboldens some of us to treat her as if she had but a limited share in the great heritage of human right, none at all in ordinary privilege or immunity. But this formidable army which

Is in bulk and constituent parts the same, though now enriched, at our cost, with a valuable contingent of recruits that have fought in every political battle of the last sixty years and have been defeated. We have, before this, had great controversies on free trade, free navigation, public education, religious equality, and the extension of the franchise. On this and other great issues this class fought uniformly on the wrong side and was uniformly beaten by a power more difficult to marshal, but resistless when marshaled by the upright sense of the nation. The power of gross and wholesale insult emboldens some, but only some, and not, I rejoice to think, the nation of Scotland or England.

As for the means we take, the establishment at Dublin of a legislative body to make laws for Irish as extra-distinguished from imperial affairs, it is with this that we are now busied, and not with details and particulars. Their time will come. They are now "employed with art" before their season to bewilder unwary souls." So it has been before. You remember how well the campaign against the franchise was managed by setting in the front of battle the pretended dangers of redistribution. We are not now debating the amount of the Irish contributions to the empire, or the composition of the legislative body, or the maintenance of a representative connection with Westminster. In these and many more questions we may and may not be at odds. But what we are debating is which includes—I think absorbs—them all, the question whether you will or will not have regard to the prayer of Ireland for the management of affairs specifically and exclusively their own. This and no other, is the matter which the house of commons has to decide. It speaks with a clear and intelligent voice in this matter. I feel the strongest assurance that the other matters, difficult as some of them are, will, nevertheless, with the aid of full discussion and a wise, conciliatory spirit, be found capable of a rational and tolerable settlement.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, MONDAY MAY 10, 1886.

THE RIGHTS OF BOTH SIDES

One of our letters from New York, published in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN, says that a bitter feeling is growing up among the workingmen there, who "begin to see that all the machinery of the law is in the hands of the employers, and that it is to be used to crush the employes." This is explained by the statement that many indictments have recently been found against working men for "conspiracy," but the grand juries are composed almost wholly of employers or of persons not wage-laborers; that employers go before the grand juries and secure indictments against strikers and boycotters, who are then required to furnish bail or go to prison; and it is added that there will be a general combination of workingmen in the elections, to put persons into office who will not so oppress them. "The workingman asks why it is that the conspiracy bolt is leveled against the laborer alone. He wants to know why employers who conspire to put up the price of coal, wheat and other necessary commodities are not indicted. He inquires why the railroad men who conspire to raise the cost of transportation are not punished. He sees the law used in the interests of employers and against the interests of employes, and he is looking for a remedy."

Now if it is true that workingmen who have formed associations to put up the price of their labor have been indicted therefor on the charge of "conspiracy," the complaint is entirely just. They certainly have the same right to form these labor associations that merchants, traders and speculators have to combine to fix the price of sugar, wheat or coal, and it is inconceivable that their right should be denied. Hence too it is inconceivable that a grand jury would bring in indictments against men for a "conspiracy" to exact a certain price for their labor, and it would be safe to say that no indictments have been returned on such a charge.

The case requires closer statement. It is found upon examination that the men have been indicted, not as "strikers," for the right to strike is unquestioned, but for combination to prevent by exertion of force in an unlawful manner, other employes from taking the places which they had themselves vacated, for taking unlawful possession of their former employers' premises and property, holding the same by force and doing injury thereto, so that the business could not go on, for conspiracy to obstruct and injure the lawful business or trade of particular persons by the act known as boycotting, or for overturning street cars, "killing" engines, disabling machinery and the like, all of which is unlawful, indefensible and wrong. Acts like these cannot be made lawful, because they are not right; they should be punished because they are wrong, and society in self-defense will be compelled to have officers of the law who will discountenance and punish them. If the men who combine together to put up the price of sugar and coal, should attempt by force and violence to prevent persons who want sugar and coal from buying anywhere else, they then would be engaged in a lawless proceeding or conspiracy, and the case would be exactly similar to that of the workingmen who quit an employment, and then refuse to let employers hire the labor of others, or to allow others to work in the places they had themselves abandoned.

This whole subject of the relations of employers and employes, including the respective rights on both sides, is exceedingly simple and plain. No sophistry can darken it. If men don't want to work they may strike or quit. This is their unquestioned right. But they have no right to attempt by force to stop the business of the man whose employment they have abandoned, or to resort to the conspiracy known as the boycott to injure one whom they dislike, or to employ violence against workmen who are willing to accept such employments and wages as may be satisfactory to them. These are elementary lessons, so simple and plain that they will necessarily enforce themselves.

THEATRICALS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

The public is being entertained by a dramatic season at the assembly hall of the High school building, the actors (numbering two or three score) being students of the school. This is the third season of the kind since the beginning of the school year last September. The purpose of these performances is to raise money to be expended upon the assembly hall, which the directors have not seen fit to furnish in a style agreeable to the advanced taste of the "professors" who manage our public school system. We cannot say if the directors have given their approval to these entertainments, or if the "professors" have acted upon their own motion in this matter, as in many others in which the welfare of the schools is concerned. If the directors have given their advice and consent, they have done a very improper thing. The district is quite able to furnish the assembly room if it be necessary to make the schools efficient, and certainly it does not need the pittance raised in this way.

There are many objections to these entertainments. First, they occupy the time and interest of the children, which should be devoted to their studies. It takes time to discuss, plan and select a play. It takes time to study and rehearse and perform it. Weeks are required to perfect and carry out the entertainment, and all this while the first interest in the minds of the fifty (or sixty or more) children who take part, is not where it ought to be, in their studies, but in the coming public occasion. Their heads are full of it, and the regular and proper business of the school, the business for which it is maintained, becomes secondary and is neglected to a greater or less extent. It cannot be otherwise, and the teachers, if they have sense and observation, must know it. Another objection is the cost of preparing for these performances. Each actor must have a special costume—some of them two or three. The cost of preparation is considerable, and it cannot but be a hardship in cases where people are poor. It is not right to ask the parents of school children to go to this special and wholly needless expense.

Another objection and a serious one is the taste for theatricals and the love of applause fostered by performance of this kind. The children who take part are just at the age of susceptibility, and [illegible] twenty cases of "stage mania" follow every successful season such as this [illegible] in this direction often leads to [illegible] consequences. And even when [illegible] results do not follow dramatic entertainments, they promote a boldness of address and a personal confidence unnatural and unbecoming in school children. Young girls in particular, who come in for the lion's share of applause, on sentimental grounds, often lose greatly in simplicity and modesty of bearing and character.

At the age of attendance at the High school, children are immature in mind and body. The draught upon their vitality is quite severe enough when the business of school is added to the demands of physical growth. To put another burden upon them, one that divides if it does not engross their interests, which adds to the strain of brain and nerve, and which (in rehearsal and execution) takes hours which belong to sleep, is scarcely less than outrageous.

This theatrical business ought to be stopped. It is harmful in every way—a hardship upon many parents, an injury to the children, and an injustice to the taxpayers. If the assembly room needs furniture, it can be provided in the proper way.

MATRIMONIAL MISFITS

When a man and woman agree to marry it is mainly their own business, though the law and society do have some interest in the transaction. The fact that the man may at the time of his marriage be president of the United States naturally makes the affair a "great event"—a sort of "affair of state," as it were, and everybody will be talking about it, and great festivities and great ceremonies will be had in honor of the occasion. Of course it will not be whispered about so it will get to the ear of the president that for a particular reason this marriage is criticised, and perhaps it will not be criticised very openly, since it is chiefly the business of the parties themselves; but it is a[illegible] on nevertheless that will offend the sensibilities of many persons, because of the great disparity in the ages of the parties. Mr. Cleveland is 50 years of age. To the blasé bachelor of fifty a woman of twenty two is but a girl, a child, and such a union is not a "match" at all, but a disparate alliance wholly remote from the true instincts and true purposes of a true marriage. Alliances of this kind have always been regarded as almost indecent. Literature is full of the most pointed ridicule and satire directed against them, and, though wealth and station may buy for them the most extravagant expressions of approval, the whole proceeding nevertheless is counterfeit, the epithalamium is only a low comedy song, and the struggle is to keep the natural feeling of disgust in subjection to good breeding, while the "show"—for such it is—passes over the stage. And then in spite of ourselves our thoughts will turn to the old Lombard baron in "Chaucer's January and May," and to Sir Peter and Lady Teazle in Sheridan's "School for Scandal."

Says the Dalles Times Mountaineer: "Which horn of the dilemma will THE OREGONIAN grasp? If it supports Pennoyer, it stultifies itself in everything it has said against the anti-coolie agitators, and if it wheels into line in favor of Cornelius it shakes hands with Mitchell and his Oregon political machine." THE OREGONIAN is in no dilemma at all. It speaks its mind freely and plainly about all parties and upon all measures, it criticises all parties and is not the special advocate of any; it makes no statements and seeks no friends at the expense of truth or independence. It is quite willing to accept the designation of the one vehicle of opinion and information in this whole country that can't be moved by hope of favor or fear of enmity from any quarter; it cares as little for the love of politicians as for their hatred; says what it thinks, and is neither elated nor cast down by the issue, be what it may. When either party takes a course which it cannot approve it says so and minces no words about it, when both parties take such course it does the same thing, and because it doesn't need party nor depend on party, it doesn't find itself lonesome, nor feel like an orphan, though it is the adherent of neither party. It prefers the position of an independent critic and recorder of events to any other that could be named, and this position it will maintain. It doesn't approve the candidacy either of Cornelius or Pennoyer, and isn't bound by any law or custom or other obligation that it knows of to support either.

Rev. E. D. Jones, for ten years a missionary in China, recently addressed a meeting of 200 Chinese in New York, in their own language and in English. In his latter address Mr. Jones said that "he was in favor of still more stringent restrictions against the importation of the Chinese into this country, not because they hurt the United States, but because the United States hurts them, because their moral condition was much better in China than here." But the New York Sun neatly turned the tables on Brother Jones by saying: "It doesn't seem to have occurred to Mr. Jones that it was rather a waste of time to spend ten years of his life in trying to diffuse through the Chinese empire the morality of a country whose moral condition is not, in his opinion, up to the Chinese standard."

It is reported that the state authorities have given a large contract for work on the state house to a Salem architect as a matter of favor, and that other architects have had no opportunity to bid for the work. If this is so, why is it so?

A million and a half of young shad are on the way out from the East, and will be set loose in the Willamette and Columbia rivers within the next ten days. A share of them ought to be put in the Willamette above the falls.

It has been suggested that it would have been in good taste at least for the bride of the president to have an American wedding outfit. But women, and brides in particular, are hard to manage in these matters.

Entertainments are given in the assembly hall of the High school building to raise money to furnish it, and it is desired to furnish it so that entertainments may be given in it.

A "backward" spring is an indication of high water in the Columbia, and farmers on Sauvie's island and along the river bottoms are preparing for a big freshet.

What is the need of furnishing the assembly hall of the High school building? What is the need of an assembly hall?

The mother-in-law already begins to figure in the Cleveland Folsom affair.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

FISHING AS IS FISHING —Yon anglers who at one time or another have had a remarkably fine day's sport, hold your breath while you listen to a recital of sport as is sport which occurred at the Oregon City falls yesterday afternoon. Mr J G Bliss with a party of four friends, went up on the Latona in the morning and all fished until 3 o'clock without getting a nibble. Very much discouraged all of the party except Bliss returned but he determined to stay till he captured a salmon if it took all summer. Soon after 3 o'clock the fish began to take the spoon though not with much eagerness, and in two hours he had ten bites, four of which he landed. They were all genuine salmon and weighed respectively thirty pounds, ten pounds, seven pounds and three pounds. The battle with the big fish lasted about half an hour but Briggs had a strong line, a stout ash and lancewood pole and a very good hook. He was standing in a hollow among the rocks and the best he could do was to reel the fish within forty feet of where he was standing. He called for assistance and the salmon was "gaffed" but he gave a powerful flop breaking the gaff and leaving the broken piece in his shoulder. Then he took another run. Finally a landing net was obtained, and just as the fish was secured he gave another flop and broke the hook which had caught in the roof of his mouth. Bliss, his ambition for once satisfied, hired a boat and pulled to Portland reaching here at 9 30. He landed at the foot of Stark street where two Oregonian reporters saw the day's capture and can vouch for the weight given above.

FASTEST VOYAGES AROUND THE HORN —Last Monday's Oregonian contained an item giving from a semi-official record, the names of ships making the fastest passage between San Francisco and New York and vice versa. A gentleman of this city whose memory in such matters is almost perfect and whose recollections are as reliable as a printed record, not being subject to typographical errors, gives The Oregonian the following data on the subject. Until they have been disproven by a great preponderance of testimony, the following may be accepted to settle all disputes in the matter. The shortest passage from New York to San Francisco by any sailing vessel was made by the Flying Cloud, one of Donald McKay's clippers, in January 1851—time 89 days and 8 hours. The Flying Cloud in 1854 made the same voyage in 89 days and 23 hours, the ship Hornet sailing in company, being about twelve hours longer. The ship Andrew Jackson several years later made the trip in 89 days and a few hours. From San Francisco to New York the shortest passage was made by the ship Comet, Capt. Gardiner, in the winter of 1853-4, time 76 days. The Comet was built by Wm. H. Webb of New York and had previously made the same voyage in 83 days. The passage of the Northern Light from San Francisco to Boston was made in 76 days—as stated in the item published in last Monday's Oregonian. What made this passage more remarkable was the fact that the Northern Light was only a half clipper, while all the other ships mentioned above were of extreme clipper model.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST A WOMAN —Saturday night Mrs Fanny O Launders, an elderly woman, was arrested on a warrant issued out of the police court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Mrs. Launders at one time lived on the hill above the Slavens road and latterly resided at Tenth and Washington streets. It seems that Mrs. Launders, by some hook or crook, got hold of a letter from Chicago with a money-order in it addressed to Charles C Landon, an expressman of East Portland. This was about five weeks ago. Mrs Launders wrote back to Chicago intimating that the order was payable to her husband Charley who had died, and asked that it be reissued to her, so she could draw the money which it called for. Two days after the order arrived here Landon received word from the relative who sent it to him that it had been mailed, and about the same time Mrs Launders's letter arrived in Chicago with notice of the death of her husband. Landon's folks received a communication from him. This let the cat out of the bag as it were and when Mrs Launders here tried to collect on the order which Landon should have received, the postal authorities having been advised of the dead husband scheme refused payment and caused her arrest. What possessed Mrs. Launders to assume to be Mrs Landon and play the dead husband scheme is a question yet to be solved.

BIG FREIGHTAGE ON FRUIT —Tone the fruit dealer yesterday received a remittance from an army officer at Fort Keogh, Montana, formerly stationed at Vancouver, in payment of a shipment of fruit. The remitter adds: "The trouble with us in Montana in getting small or large bills of goods from Portland is the high rates of freight and expressage, for the companies discriminate against your city very much in favor of St. Paul. For instance on the small package you sent me, costing $7 25 the expressage I paid was $4—more than fifty per cent. of the original cost of the goods. We can't stand such a tariff so do not order anything if possible to avoid it. No doubt the criticism is just as regards small shipments and more liberality ought to be shown, but in large shipments the rates have been such that no complaints have ever reached The Oregonian.

BODY RECOVERED —About 9 o'clock yesterday morning a German walking on the river bank on the east side below Swan Island noticed the body of a man floating just above the slough where the railroad track crosses it and a hundred feet or so from shore. He informed Chas H. Reed, who has a shop near the U street ferry landing. They got a boat rowed to the body and secured it with a rope. The coroner was notified and took the body to the morgue where it was immediately identified as that of Otto Ramonckv, who was drowned on the evening of April 6 by the overturning of a skiff. The body was very much decomposed, but identification was easy by means of his clothing, papers in his pockets and an old breastpin. A jury was summoned and a verdict of accidental drowning rendered. The remains will be buried Tuesday afternoon in Lone Fir.

THREE OF THE COUNTY PRISONERS —Harry Irving who shot at constable Lichtenthaler, is still confined in the county jail, pending his trial in the state circuit court. He occupies cage number 2. Geismardo is confined in cage number 1 and C H Girardat who killed Emil La Fane, in number 3. Geismardo has got over his sick and crazy fit and now shows a disposition to behave himself. In the daytime he is turned loose in the corridor along with the other prisoners. Irving has little to say, and gives the authorities no trouble. He admits that he made a break, but says it was caused by his drinking too much. His case will be called shortly.

CHARGED WITH THEFT —One day last week Mrs. McCormick, who keeps the Montgomery lodging house at the upper end of First street left a purse containing $127 50 on a stand in one of the rooms. Sam Hock, a Chinese laundryman called for washing and during his stay had occasion to pass through the room where the purse lay. The Celestial procured the clothes which he came after and left. After his departure the purse with the money contained therein was missed, and the consequence was the arrest of Sam Hock for larceny. He denies taking the money. The case will be called for trial in the police court to-day.

A SHADOW BICYCLE —The lightest bicycle ever sent to the Pacific coast will arrive here inside of two weeks. It was built expressly for F F Merrill of this place by the Pope Manufacturing company of Boston Mass. and weighs twenty two and one half pound, which is just half the weight of an ordinary machine. Merrill is the fastest professional bicyclist on the coast, and about the lightest racing man in America and the bicycle company will attempt to make a nineteen pound fifty five inch racer for him to race on when he arrives in the East.

AN EXCURSION WITHIN REACH OF ALL — The ladies of Hall Street M. E church will give an excursion and old fashioned family or basket picnic with the Wide West at Multnomah falls one week from next Saturday, May 22. To enable families entire to go from baby to grandmother the ticket for the round trip has been fixed—as the same society did last year—at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children 12 years of age and under. Four hours at the falls for picnic purposes. The steamer will leave Ash street dock at ... A M

COUNTER CHARGE —Frank P O'Brien who works for E Martin & Co was arrested on a warrant issued from Justice ...'s court for thumping H Dickie and pulling out some of his whiskers. Mr O'Brien settled the matter by paying a fine of $20 and in turn had Dickie arrested on a like charge in Justice Tedman's court. Dickie was released from custody on putting up $20 bail to appear for trial at 10 o'clock this morning. The row took place in the Argonaut saloon at the corner of First and Alder streets.

BOXES AT AUCTION —A novel plan for the sale of the two lower boxes at the Casino, for Mr Murray's benefit Tuesday night, has been adopted. Sealed bids will be received up to ... P M on Tuesday. The highest bidder will have the choice of boxes and the next highest bidder takes the remaining box. The bids will be opened at 3 P M at McKercher & Thompson's.

PARDONED OUT —Jones, a fellow who robbed the safe of Ball Bros at The Dalles two and a half years ago has recently been released from the penitentiary on a pardon. He was a former companion of John Wilson and William Eldridge sent up for breaking into Zek Trick's safe May 24. Eldridge is still confined. During his incarceration Wilson died.

FINE SHOOTING —Yesterday afternoon Messrs Boggs, Keane, Rickey and Davis, our well known sportsmen went up to the White house to shoot at Peoria blackbirds. Each made the remarkable score of five birds in five shots and in the shoot off Davis made five while each of the remainder scored four.

MASQUERADE BALL —Great preparations are being made for the masque ball to take place at the pavilion on Friday evening next. Parsons & Bray's orchestra with all the leading musicians will furnish all the latest music of the day. It will be the last and grandest affair of the season.

THE CUTTER "CORWIN."

What she did in Alaskan Waters—How she came to get Back to her Old Station.

The U S revenue cutter Corwin now lying in the stream opposite the foot of Pine street was built, and formerly stationed on the Columbia river. When the government undertook the search for the Jeannette expedition, being the best adapted vessel available for that work she was fitted out and dispatched to the Arctic ocean. In connection with that service she performed the regular duties of a revenue cruiser in Alaskan waters, viz., preventing the introduction and sale to the native Alaskans of whisky and firearms, also the illegal killing of seals by any except those appointed by the Alaska commercial company, who have the privilege from the United States. The unusual strength of the Corwin's hull enabled her on several occasions to force her way through the ice and rescue the crews of whale ships that had been caught in the pack and crushed.

The first cruise of the Corwin having proved the necessity of such a vessel in the Arctic during the whaling season and no other vessel being considered strong enough the Corwin was retained for that duty. The last congress, on motion of Mr Dolph, turned over to the treasury department the Bear, one of the Greeley relief ships, and specially designated her for an Alaskan cruiser. The arrival of the Bear enabled the treasury department to return the Corwin to her original station with headquarters at Astoria. The cruising ground extends from Neah bay to Crescent City. In addition to her duties as a revenue cutter, she affords relief to all vessels in distress.

Following is a list of her officers: Captain A B Davis, first lieutenant, Frank Tuttle, third lieutenant, J C Cantwell, chief engineer D F Kelly, first assistant engineer M C Marshall, second assistant engineer Fred E Owen, pilot J H Douglass, crew of thirty men.

PYTHIAN NEWS NOTES.

Scandia conferred the three ranks on one applicant Friday night.

Castle lodge has work this month, as it has each month of this year so far.

Ivanhoe will pass their convention to-night as most of the active members go to Vancouver.

Mystic lodge completed revision of by laws last week. One important change is that no officer can receive a salary in excess of $5 per month.

Nearly one hundred Knights will visit Vancouver lodge this evening leaving here by boat at 7 o'clock. East Portland and Albina will both send delegations.

The Oregon grand lodge meets in this city next October, and already members are talking of representatives and officers. At present everything points to a lively session.

"PYTHIAN POINTS."

Ivanhoe lodge No. 1, K of P, of Walla Walla sends out a very neat little book entitled "Pythian Points." It contains a sketch of the origin, progress, principles and benefits of the order written by John S King, supreme prelate, and a brief historical sketch of the order in Washington territory by Henry Kelling, of Ivanhoe lodge. The first part treats of the declaration of principles as endorsed by the supreme lodge, composition of the order, ranks, lodge benefits, cost of membership, how to organize a lodge and cost, foreign lodges, uniform rank divisions and the endowment feature. The society or order was started February 19, 1864. Twenty one years later it comprised 2000 lodges and 140 000 members. The sum of $4 500 000 had been paid out as benefits by subordinate lodges irrespective of $3,078 617 paid in nine years by the endowment section. Rituals are now printed in the French, German and Scandinavian languages. The uniform divisions number 14 000 men. In nine years the death rate of the endowment rank has been but eight out of each 1000 members annually. It is operated on the monthly assessment plan and graded according to age of members. A reserve fund is provided for against epidemics or excessive mortality. Thirteen years ago on January 7, 1873, Ivanhoe lodge was instituted at Walla Walla nineteen days prior to the organization of the first lodge in Oregon.

The grand jurisdiction of Washington now controls two lodges at Walla Walla, and one each at Ferndale, Seattle, Whatcom, Colfax, Chehalis, Spokane Falls, Olympia, Utsalady, Black Diamond, Mt Vernon, Moscow and Carbonado, with La Conner, Port Townsend, Pomeroy and Wellington organizing. The grand lodge meets at Seattle this month.

All ladies interested in any phase of the temperance work are invited to attend the Monday afternoon meetings held weekly at the headquarters of the W C T U, on First street, near Columbia. Meetings open promptly at 2 30 P M.

Early yesterday morning a cook belonging to a vessel lying at the gas house dock got drunk and became afflicted with a pugilistic spell. He tried to clean out the whole crew, officers included, but a stop was made to his proceedings by a policeman taking him in tow and proceeding with him to the city jail. He gave the name of W Blake.

About two weeks ago the Villard house situated close to the boneyard was attached by the following creditors: C J Gross $221, J McGregor a butcher for $52, J C DeLaun milk dealer $15 and Eddy & Kerns, $62. Saturday the place was sold by Constable Springer to Ted Anderson for $150. The former proprietors were Larson & Neilsen.

"THE PRINCESS."

I was very generally remarked by those who attended both evenings, that if "The Princess" was given no better on Saturday evening than on Friday, it certainly was enjoyed more. It seems to grow on one more and more as he understands the burning thoughts of the author which run through it. The parts are all taken by boys and girls who have never before attempted work of the kind, and yet their manner of rendering it shows an earnest appreciation of the sentiment of the author. It is remarkable, too that it should be so much enjoyed—as the earnest attention and hearty enthusiasm of the audience showed that it was—since people are too much accustomed now to light and sensational drama. The grouping in the acts making such fine tableau effect, is also worthy of remark. Elegant books, costly furs and statuary gave fine setting to the rich robes, and the arrangement exhibited artistic taste.

It was evident on Friday night that the first appearance before an audience produced slight stage fright in some of the actors. This all disappeared Saturday night before the enthusiastic welcome which a packed house gave to the young people and every one of the 100 engaged entered with spirit into the play. Success depended quite as much on the minor parts as on the principal characters and still more on the executive ability of the managers. Those who went there to patronize what they expected would be an ordinary school exhibition were agreeably surprised, and we are sure that an audience will gather this evening which will secure to the young people the pecuniary success they have so well earned in addition to the appreciation and praise already secured.

Miss Nina Cook of Wisconsin has graciously consented to favor the audience with a song this evening. When all do so well it is not necessary to speak of individual parts. From Psyche's child whose delight at the flowers given her was so pleasant, through the chorus of girls and quaint acting of the plough woman to the Prince and Princess—every one contributed to the success of an entertainment which will long be remembered by all who were present.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

SALEM Oregon, May 4.

To the Editor of The Oregonian.

There are a few republicans left in Marion county who still have some interest in the old party and for the information of such will you answer the following questions:

1st—Is Mr Hermann a member of the Mitchell wing of the party or is he posing for the temperance vote?

2d—Is Judge Waldo in any way tainted with the wagon road land steal of Oregon or with the swamp land ring in any manner that would bias his decisions on those important questions?

3d—Is Col Cornelius an exponent of the law and order members of society and opposed to the "influence" that secured his nomination or will he enter the ring and contest with Mr Pennoyer for the vote of the Anti Chinese, labor unions and other rebellious associations of like character?

4th—Is H. F. Marston a "close tillicum" with the ring that has controlled the treasury of the state from time immemorial? If so how much?

5th—Is Baker the nominee for state printer the Baker that is under bonds for riot or is he the Baker that published notices forbidding printers working for E. M. Waite during the late session of the legislature?

6th—Is the News going to drop its old bosom friend Pennoyer and support Cornelius or divide its "patronage"?

7th—Is there anything more the republicans of Portland want? They have two senators, two judges of the supreme court, the governor, the treasurer (control of) the state printer, superintendent insane asylum, chairman republican state central committee and yet they are not satisfied. If there is anything left worth having the members of the ring should ask and it will be given them. In order to satisfy these people you will please answer and accommodate

A REPUBLICAN

These questions are asked in good faith and we can do no less than answer them in the same spirit.

First —(As to Mr Hermann) He is a member of the Mitchell ring. He was renominated by Mitchell's express order. We don't know what efforts are being made to secure the temperance vote for him.

Second (As to Judge Waldo) We don't know.

Third —(As to Col Cornelius) He would be, we believe, a law and order governor, though we do not know what his attitude was during the late agitation. He would not and could not oppose the influence which secured his nomination. His political associations have always been with the ring and if elected he will be the agent of the managers in the state administration. What Col. Cornelius's attitude will be before the "rebellious associations" we cannot say, but those who promoted his nomination and who hope to profit by his election will appeal to the scrub element in the usual way—to be plain about it they will buy them up wherever the thing can be done.

Fourth—(As to Mr Marston) He is a "close tillicum" with the ring which has controlled the treasury in the past. If elected he will be their servant and will permit the public money to be trafficked with by the same old crowd. Marston's connection with this ring began in 1882, when he was a member of the legislature.

Fifth—(As to Baker) He is not the agitator nor in any way connected with him. He is the Baker who is president of the typographical union.

Sixth—We cannot say what the News will do. It is open to bids and will support whoever or whatever will pay it the most money.

Seventh—Yes Portland would like the earth.

MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE.

SPRAGUE W T May

Charles Bishoff, the soldier charged with the murder of Lewis Fellio at Fort Spokane on March 10th 1886 was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Judge Turner and plead not guilty. The Territory appeared by S C Hyde and S G McMillan and the defense by W H Doolittle and John H. Flood Jr. Considerable time was taken up in empaneling a jury which was not completed till five o'clock. The witness McClosky was then examined who testified that defendant shot deceased while he was standing perfectly still and making no assault on defendant Bishoff. Several witnesses were sworn who testified to substantially the same facts as did McClosky.

The defense then called several witnesses one of whom testified that deceased had a revolver in his hand and snapped it at Bishoff before he shot deceased.

The case went to the jury at 9 o'clock and at about half past 10 they came into court with a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. A motion for a new trial was then filed and set for argument the 11th.

Democratic Club Meeting—A Woman Attempts Suicide—Several Painful Accidents

The East Portland democratic club met on Saturday evening at the hall, corner I and Fourth streets Chairman W T Burney presided, and announced that the meeting had been called for the purpose of electing a president of the club vice himself resigned, and to transact other business that would be presented in due time. W B Welch was selected as president, to take the place made vacant by Mr Burney's resignation Mr Welch being secretary of the club, it became necessary to elect a new officer for that position, and Charles Wait was unanimously chosen. The chair was empowered to appoint an executive committee whose duty it shall be to provide halls and music during the campaign The following were selected Col. C Taylor Ira Jones Gus Strube, H D McGuire and Charles Davis The president was also instructed to name a committee of five whose business it shall be to immediately select fifteen additional delegates to the county democracy The following gentlemen have been appointed W H Merrick H. P McGuire Mallory Raffety, John Dorsey and James Heimbree

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Yesterday afternoon just prior to the departure of the outward bound freight train on the O R. & N company's line Mrs Albert Seaman wife of the well known mechanic of that name while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity walked upon the trestle just at the mouth of Sullivan's gulch and sat deliberately down The woman's peculiar actions were observed by Mr John Riner who lives at the corner of Fourth and C streets and that gentleman summoning several men to his assistance started to the rescue They reached the lady just as the freight train approached the east side depot and endeavored to persuade her to accompany them to a place of safety The woman refused point blank, and signified her firm intention of dying on the spot Finding persuasion of no avail the gentlemen picked her up and carried her in spite of her struggles up the embankment just beyond the Fifth street bridge, which they reached as the train passed by Later the unfortunate woman was conveyed to her home corner S and Seventh streets and attended to by Dr Cecil Mrs Seaman is about 40 years old has been married over twenty years and is the mother of several children Her husband is an honest hard working man in the employ of Corbett Failing & Co Portland

TOO MUCH FIRE WATER

One day last week Indian John a well known aborigine whose age is variously estimated to be somewhere between 100 and 200 years and who spends the greater part of his uneventful existence on Columbia slough concluded to take a ride for the benefit of his failing health John was led to this conclusion by the invitation of a well known disciple of Esculapius who is given somewhat to excessive indulging of the ardent. The manner in which John describes his ride is irresistibly funny "Man he take drink whoopee whip horse another drink whoop horse run more whisky Pretty soon smash! The buggy was upset and John was thrown with considerable force on a sharp rock cutting his right leg just below the knee cap in a serious manner On Saturday John came to town to have his wound dressed. He says he will take no more recreative rides with fire-eating doctors

ROUGH ON RATS

George Carr the only son of G W Carr the merchant tailor living on Fourth street, between I and J streets narrowly escaped a most horrible death on Saturday evening It appears that Mr Carr had placed a quantity of wheat saturated with a poisonous mixture known as Rough on Rats in several places about his premises George discovered some of the cereal on Saturday evening and not knowing its deadly nature ate it. Luckily the boy was discovered in the act and Dr Day Raffety summoned who at once administered the proper antidote and averted a very serious calamity However it was a close call which greatly alarmed his parents as well as the boy himself.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

On Saturday afternoon while splitting wood at his home near Dunn's brickyard John McDonald inflicted a very painful wound upon his eight year old daughter Mr McDonald was so engrossed at the time in his work that he did not observe the approach of his daughter and she presuming that he knew of her presence stepped almost directly under the falling ax which struck her on the left cheek and ranging downward cut an ugly gash across her mouth Dr C H Raffety, who was called dressed the wound and at last accounts the little sufferer was doing comparatively well It is thought that the girl's face will not be permanently disfigured although the cut is a severe one

THE DAIRY NUISANCE CASE.

At 10 o clock this morning the case of T Fallon charged with using abusive language, will come up before Recorder Gillespie This case is likely to result in a series of lawsuits. Fallon declares he will not move his dairy from its present location unless under severe pressure and threatens to have the complainant in the present case arrested for abusive language also A large number of witnesses will be in attendance and the case promises to be interesting

FIRST GUN FOR THE DEMOCRACY

NOTES FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

[Correspondence of The Oregonian]

WASHINGTON May 2

After lengthy consideration of the subject the house committee on public lands have declined to recommend the absolute repeal of the desert land act but instead have suggested some modifications of the existing law which are intended to protect the interests of the government and to secure the rights of settlers in good faith. In the amendments proposed the committee has sought to cure the existing mischief of the present law To reach this result it has received the assistance of the land department The amendments provide in brief

First—That entry shall not be made until by proof in prescribed form the applicant has shown the land applied for to be desert in character, and that he has a practical method and the means by ownership or control of water supply, sufficient to reclaim it.

Second—By requiring an annual expenditure of $1 per acre in such reclamation and on failure to prove such expenditure each year the entry to be summarily canceled and the advance payment of 25 cents per acre to be forfeited to the government.

Third—Such aggregate expenditure to equal $3 dollars per acre and proof thereof to be made on or before the expiration of three years from date of entry with final payment of $1 per acre for the land, such proof to show actual reclamation and cultivation

Fourth Application of these new conditions to existing entries made under the present law The provisions of the former law are re-enacted relating to water rights and the determination of what are desert lands

In the opinion of the committee these amendments fully cover the defects in the present law and will cure the evils now existing in its provisions and past administration Time and experience will doubtless suggest still further improvement, but the amendments now proposed if enacted into law and properly administered will prevent holding of land thereunder without reclamation and for mere peculation Failure to annually expend the required sum in reclamation when met by prompt loss of the land and forfeiture of moneys paid will afford no opportunity for the abuses which now exist but will render it certain that in the large majority of cases the object of the law will be promptly and successfully accomplished As an argument in favor of proceeding by amendment instead of repeal in the law the committee say

The remedy lies in such amendatory legislation as would cure the existing evil But the land department has of late [illegible] sought to cure the evil in this form The unconditional repeal of the laws was alone urged In this the majority of the committee cannot concur As shown the law is applicable to nearly the whole of the public domain now remaining unsold The repeal and substitution of no other form of law [illegible] would close this vast region to successful settlement and reclamation This cannot be done [illegible] and is open to the surplus population of the East The tide of immigration which flows in increasing volume upon this vast territory demands that the law be so framed and administered that it may be acquired by those who in good faith brave the hardships of the frontier and by expenditure of time and labor successfully reclaim the desert waste That demand cannot be evaded nor ignored To meet it in such form as will best subserve the interest of both the United States and the individual claimant has engaged much of the time and thought of this committee

Mr Hermann has joined in a minority report against the Oklahoma project. This report is signed by three democrats and two republicans all representatives of the East with the exception of Mr Hermann The position taken by this minority against opening to settlement the lands in the Indian territory is that "the title of the Cherokees at least, to all their lands is an absolute unqualified fee, and they have all the rights and privileges appurtenant to an estate of that character Such we consider to be the true character of the title by which the Cherokees hold this land. And now, having thus given a true history as we believe of the relations between these people and the government, we cannot, in view of that history, and with our convictions concerning the law and our treaty obligations, give our assent to a measure which seeks to secure the consent of the Indians to the proposed organization of the territory by rendering a large part of their lands valueless unless such consent is given. National honor forbids a departure from these treaty obligations to a dependent people '

The committee on commerce recommend that the necessary authority be granted to the Astoria & Winnemucca railroad company to bridge the Willamette river south of Oregon City, and such other navigable streams in the state as may be necessary in the construction of the line and its branches The bill contains all the conditions and safeguards necessary to preserve the navigability of the streams over which any bridges may be constructed

Senator Dolph has reported favorably a similar bill granting to the Oregonian railway bridge company the right to construct a bridge over the Willamette in the vicinity of Ray's landing.

The Indian affairs committee have favorably considered the measure to purchase a tract of land near Salem for the use of the Indian training school This land contains over eighty four acres and is to be purchased for $1500, payment to be made in labor performed by the Indian pupils attending the school

Senator Dolph has secured favorable action by the pension committee on the bill increasing the pension of Mrs Margaret [illegible] Pierce widow of Capt. Henry Hubbard Pierce late of Twenty first infantry

FROM THE PINE VALLEY MINES

[Correspondence of The Oregonian]

ALLENTOWN May 3

The vanguard of summer armed with April showers, has been driving the snow up the canyons for the last month Pine valley is verdure clad and the wild lilies nod their yellow plumes along the road for some distance above Allentown The streets here and at Cornucopia are bare but on the hills above there is still, except on the south slopes, a foot or more of snow

Several hundred people have wintered here and have evidently been not altogether idle Allentown now contains seventy-six buildings Cornucopia forty six, and there are eighteen cabins straggling along the road between the two towns which are less than half a mile apart, and which will undoubtedly grow together before autumn Saloons restaurants and general merchandise stores have trebled in number since last autumn a brewery is in full operation a two-stamp sampling mill is in process of erection, and a small saw mill has been built half a mile below town Seven bridges have been built across Pine creek on the road to the valley Many lots and a portion of the streets have been cleared of trees, which have been cut into shakes and cord wood and foundation timbers. The light of burning brush piles illuminates the night and the sound of crashing trees echoes from daylight to dark up and down the canyon

MINES AND PROSPECTS

The mines or rather the prospects, discovered last year are still buried under the snow and nothing can be done in the way of exploration or development for six weeks yet During the winter a few men have been at work on the Contact, or as it is more generally known the Silver mine located on the north and east side of Pine creek about four miles from here and work has been steadily pushed upon the Whitman by the Louisville (Ky) company which purchased that mine last fall Supplies or the Contact were carried up during the winter by packers travelling on snow shoes but a fairly good road has been constructed to the Whitman There has been some little work done on a few other claims but generally it may be said that the Pine creek miners have been hibernating since November last, and waiting for the coming season

Doubtless the future of the camp will be determined by the developments made this summer The showing in the Contact at a depth of 135 feet is said to be that of a true fissure vein of five feet of quartz with a hanging wall of granite and a foot wall of slate exhibiting ore averaging over $100 in silver per ton all the way down This showing though extremely satisfactory to the owners of the Contact is yet of no great consequence to the camp generally as the Contact is four miles away in a different formation shows a different class of ores and evidently belongs to a different system from that of which Cornucopia and Allentown are the center

Nor can the work done on the Whitman be said to establish the permanency and value of the mines in this district. At 100 feet the drifts in this mine are said to show a four-foot ledge, with thirty inches of good ore some of which is exceedingly rich but it will take something more than this to make a Bodie." The Union Companion Red Jacket, Robert Emmet Red Boy Mountain Chief Cox and Allen Forest Queen, O R. & N and other mines which produced from their croppings last summer the rich rock which first turned public attention to the Pine valley mines are as yet practically undeveloped and most of them remain in the hands of their original locators. These locators were in most instances unacquainted with the modern methods of selling mines they placed a very high estimate on the value of their prospects and they did not seem to be aware of the fact that the days when capitalists paid large sums for the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things unseen have passed by and that he who expects to induce capital to sink a shaft on a quartz ledge in a new district must give up a large share of the location for the work

REMARKS ON THE OUTLOOK.

Probably the coming season will witness many changes in this respect and claim owners will either sell at low figures or else go to work on their claims and with drill and dynamite put them in a state of development where they can legitimately ask high figures Again, last year the snow was an unknown quantity both as to its depth and as to the time of its advent

Now however it is known that the ground will be bare from June to November and that during the entire winter there will be practically no difficulty in working claims where work shall be fairly under way before the first snowfall.

There is a possibility of a great mining city here with a population of 20,000 people, and a bullion output of $10 000 000 per annum and there is a reasonable certainty of a prosperous mining camp of a few hundred people with a bullion yield of several hundred thousand dollars per annum

In further letters I will speak of the mines in detail

WHATCOM NOTES

WHATCOM W T, May 7

Mercantile seekers returned from the Skagit mines and reports are less assuring as regards the mines

Several of the citizens of Whatcom including some ladies will attend the next May term of the district court at Seattle, having been summoned to act as jurors This no doubt in view of the conspiracy cases then to be brought on for trial

A petition to the Hon L Q C Lamar secretary of the interior is being numerously signed here asking that a southern portion of the district of lands subject to entry at Olympia W T be added to the Vancouver W T district and the land office now established in the former place be located at Seattle, W T Such a rearrangement of the public land districts would be of great convenience to the people of the more northern portions of the Sound country

Now that it seems certain that Bellingham bay will not—not at least this year—be the terminal of very many leading and great systems of railways and the trade of the Orient and of the regions beyond and that of the wilderness of our own country will not condensate here immediately times are dull from a business point of view The average resident of Bellingham bay however keeps ever alive the expectation that a great city will be built up there some time "

"Work, Work, Work!'

How many women there are working to day in various branches of industry to say nothing of the thousands of patient housewives whose lives are an unceasing round of toil who are martyrs to those complaints to which the weaker sex is liable Their tasks are rendered doubly hard and irksome and their lives shortened, yet hard necessity compels them to keep on To such Dr Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" offers a sure means of relief For all female weaknesses it is a certain cure. All druggists.

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY May 8.

Weather showery

The calendar week now closed has witnessed a generally good merchandise trade Interior orders as a rule were not heavy but in the aggregate were what is termed liberal Rail and water imports do not materially fall away although receipts by rail are not what they were early last month In the merchandise markets the principal features were the decline of one cent in sugars, a rise in sisal cordage and larger sales of cannery supplies The produce lines are in fair business for the time of year although seemingly duller than they should be, Wheat receipts exceed those of last year and more ships are in river. The flour market has changed for the better and the combination will stick Prices had been reduced below $3 50 as this figure actually bought flour of retailers. Wool is in slow movement because of dull markets and a backward selling disposition Much of that being received does not go on the market Holders anticipate a better demand in the near future but there is now seemingly nothing in the situation to promise any decided change

Two car loads of California flour in sack, sold at St Louis recently at $4 50 per barrel It was about extra fancy in quality

Several St Louis bakers are enjoying the fruits of a boycott and doing quite as well as Mrs Gray

Beerbohm's List of recent date gives the following figures of the supply of wheat and flour afloat for the United Kingdom compared with the two past years as follows

	1884 Qrs	1885 Qrs	1886 Qrs
Cala & Ore	179 000	1 851 000	1 177,000
Atlantic ports	8 000	69 000	133 000
India	6 000	159 000	77,000
Russia and Danube	5 000	9 000	39,000
Australia	[illegible] 000	6?0,000	531,000
Chili	[illegible] 000	18 000	120,000
Sundries	18 000	3 000	11,000
Total	1 914,000	2 170 000	2 101 000

The harvest return published by the South Australian Register show that there will be a surplus of only 4 000 tons, and a similar condition prevails in other colonies so that Australia will not be a factor this season in supplying the English market

Overland receipts include car wheat drills harvesters 300 cases coal oil 244 rolls barbed wire, 13 cs hams 8 sks bacon 2 pianos, 1 cs cigars 1 cs cigarettes, 8 bls 300 bxs tobacco 10 bls twine 10 doz snaths 35 doz forks, 2 buggies 4 shots 10 bdls splint baskets 4 bls cordage

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours 2310 ctls wheat 933 bbl flour 1634 ctls oats 22 sks potatoes, 485 lbs wool 487 lbs hides 102 cs eggs, 11 cs butter 9 bxs fruit 22 cattle 230 sheep Also 5417 ctls wheat 800 bbls flour 13,251 lbs wool 3110 lbs hides from the eastern section

FREIGHTS—No apparent life in the market The open spot list remains five iron and one wood

WHEAT—Advices are of the usual Saturday character, and all markets are quiet. Local quotations remain $1 27½ or valley and $1 15@1 17½ for Walla Walla.

FLOUR—Agents have notified customers of the advance and 10-days sales were at prices agreed upon

The new terms are Less than 100 bbls $4 over that quantity $3 80, two per cent off for cash, one per cent off on thirty days payment interest at 10 per cent after 30 days usual terms to jobbers

OATS—Firm with a steady feeling but 40c is the extreme for anything but a fancy grade The local market is better supplied although stocks are light.

POTATOES—Almost nothing done and shipments are light by the outgoing steamer Dealers pay 25@35c.

PROVISIONS—The market is not so firm as it should be under existing circumstances, as sellers of Eastern work at a small profit and have not wholly recognized the enhanced cost. Prices rule fairly steady as last quoted.

DRIED FRUITS Quiet but generally firm with good inquiry Supplies of common local are ample

BUTTER—Some dealers report an overstock of poor to common with sales difficult at any price Choice roll hardly so firm, few lots bringing over 27½c

EGGS—Demands in some direction advanced to 15c because of the lighter arrivals

CHICKENS—Quote $3@4 with the market showing nothing of new interest

WOOL—Occasional sales at about 16c Buyers claim a range of 13@17c which holders are not recognizing, A dull trade is looked for this month Eastern mail advices are of light inquiry with values in buyers favor Fine grades show the most weakness Values at primary markets are above a parity with New York and Boston and business in new clip has been unimportant, It is thought the holding off of local operators West will result in larger consignments to eastern dealers than for several years past. There is less anxiety felt as to the proposed new tariff law and the general impression now is that no important change will be made even if a new law is passed

TALK OF THE NEWSPAPERS.

Boston Globe There is to be a parting of the ways by and by Democrats who are ashamed of their democracy will find out, when the time for reckoning arrives that the democratic party is more ashamed of them than they are of it

St Louis Globe Democrat An order to stop the growth of trees would be a good thing Railroad ties are made of trees, and there are no doubt many trees now growing which if allowed to develop will be used for ties or the Missouri Pacific. Cut them all down while they are young.

Philadelphia Record If the strikers have not always succeeded in raising the rate of wages they have raised the price of sugar beef and coal They are like the sportsman who set his trap for a rabbit and caught a skunk what he missed in the way of potpie was made up to him in perfume

St Louis Republican The attempt to enforce the payment of fines and costs assessed by societies which use the boycott to collect them will probably be abandoned after an experience with the law under which the grand jury returned several indictments The courts keep a dear school for those who will learn in no other

New York Sun If Mr Cleveland had time to put in a full week at reading the various daily and weekly democratic journals in the states and territories he would perhaps be surprised to find how few of them are fond of his civil service notions or patient with the administration's delay to give the offices to its friends.

New York Herald When home rule becomes a certainty of the near future the tories will try to defeat Mr Gladstone, that they may wrench from his grasp the privilege of giving her Magna Charta to Ireland Gladstone has opened the door Of that great honor he can not be deprived But whether the liberal or the tory party will cross its threshold with the home rule bill in its hand is a matter which no one dare predict

Philadelphia Times The growing drift into habits of idleness has much to do with the increase of what is strictly called genteel begging Idleness begets every shade of vice and one of its first lessons is to get what you need without earning it whether honestly or dishonestly Its grade down to actual crime is not steep and the descent is seldom sudden It begins by exhaustive invention to live in some apparently decent way on the earnings of others.

Lost Faith in Physicians

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Dr PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY in all diseases of the blood, when the patient had been given up by physicians It is one of the best medicines ever offered to the public and as it is prepared with the greatest care as a specific for certain diseases it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions Take Golden Medical Discovery, Blood and Liver Specific for all disorders arising from impure blood It is endorsed by all leading professional men

The Trouble with the Democrats.

BE SURE

SKIDMORE & CO Portland Oregon write they have sold WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY fifteen years that they know of no article that gives greater satisfaction to those that use it and they do not hesitate to recommend it

A L. SAYLOR Dayton Oregon writes I have been selling drugs and medicines for the past nine years and consider WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY one of the best selling preparations on my shelves. It has given general satisfaction so far and sales are increasing I do not hesitate to recommend it as among the best cough remedies now in the market

GEORGE A HARDING Oregon City writes that he has sold WISTAR'S BALSAM five years and knows it to be one of the most reliable preparations in the market for the cure of Coughs Colds and Throat and Lung Complaints.

That Tired Feeling

Everybody knows what "that tired feeling" is. It and is nearly every one at this time of year, being caused by the depressing effects of the changing season and the debilitated condition of the body The refreshing toning and invigorating influences for which the system appeals will be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla, the reliable tonic and blood purifier Give it a trial.

"I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla when I was so weak I could not do my work, It has made a new person of me. All I ask of any one is to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and see its outside effect. It takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of I would not be without it Mrs. O A M HUBBARD, North Chili, N Y

Strength and Appetite.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla with such benefit as to astonish my friends. I have renewed my strength my appetite is good my cough is growing better I feel like a different person Mrs A. P. [illegible] Marblehead, Mass.

I could not sleep and in the morning had hardly strength enough to get out of bed I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly could get up without that tired and languid feeling and my appetite improved —R.
